Hi there,

How are you? Are you hanging in there? We hope so. In times of crisis (like fires, earthquakes and floods) we're proud to be a community meeting place for our Napa locals. A place to grab a cup of coffee, a sweet treat, a beer, something for dinner or charge your phones. During COVID-19 it has been hard not to be able to offer that in the same way. It might look different, but we're still here. Our merchants are still here to make a meal for you, provide healthy and fresh food for your pantry and a smile to-go all in a safe and hygienic environment.

As this changes and evolves and we're able to come together again, rest assured we'll continue to be here for you. We may have some fun surprises and offerings up our sleeves as well.

Check out who is currently open and what they're offering at the market. We'll see you soon.
